March Roars In, Storm Halts Travel

March has definitely "come in like a lion". Crawford County residents awoke Wednesday morning, March 1, to several inches of the white fluffy stuff that makes skiers, snowmobilers, and small children smile.

Two days later with driveways and sidewalks barely cleared, Old Man Winter unleashed a snow and ice storm that slowed traffic to a crawl, caused schools to close early, and forced the cancellation of many scheduled events.

The Crawford County Sheriff Department reported that, considering the wind and snow and then later the ice storm, the Department was surprisingly quiet Friday night. Officers were dispatched early Saturday morning to transport several Mercy Hospital employees to the hospital. At about 4:00 a.m. Saturday morning, a Sheriff's deputy spotted a lone cross country skier making his way through Grayling's downtown area. The officer stated that if travel was necessary, skiing was probably the safest mode of transportation.

No Injuries Reported In Six-Car Accident

An accident involving six cars occurred Sunday morning on the northbound lanes of I-75 at approximately the 244 mile marker.

The multi-car accident occurred when a truck, driving too fast for the icy road conditions, spun out and went into the ditch. The other five vehicles rear-ended one another as they attempted to avoid the truck.

When Crawford County Sheriff Officers arrived at the scene (at about 9:41 a.m.), they found the six cars at rest on both of the northbound roadway.

None of the drivers were from Crawford County.

There were no injuries to either the drivers or to their passengers.

County Jurors Find Sebewaing Man Guilty

A jury of Crawford County residents found 17-year-old Stephen Osterhout guilty of premeditated murder in the first degree and first degree felony murder.

Osterhout, of Sebewaing, was charged with murdering Dean Lyons, 28, of Cheboygan, on April 12.

The trial was held in the Crawford County 46th Circuit Court presided by Judge Alton Davis on a charge of venue from Grayling.

Osterhout awaits sentencing.

Cancer Society To Begin Sunshine Bouquet Sales

The Crawford County Unit of the American Cancer Society will soon be starting their 4th annual "Daffodil Days", targeting March 21, as the delivery date.

They are again offering "Sunshine Bouquets" of ten daffodils each. They will deliver the flowers to such sites as the foster care and health care facilities, the homebound, and elderly residents in our community. Each sunshine bouquet will bear a tag showing the name of the sender.

Dan Priestap has volunteered as sales chairman for this year. Businesses and other offices will be contacted soon by volunteers, between February 20 and March 4.

Proceeds of the campaign will be used to further cancer education, and to meet cancer-related needs of Crawford County families.

If you are able to help in the Daffodil Days campaign, please contact Mary Kay Hinkle, day-times at 348-9214.

Red Cross Blood Bank At Legion Hall March 8th

Blood is still in short supply, so Blood Donors of Crawford County are asked to come to the American Legion Hall in Grayling between noon and 6 p.m. and make that great gift to your fellow man - a pint of your own blood.

If you have never given a pint of your precious blood before come to the American Legion Hall in downtown Grayling on Wednesday, March 8th and experience that reaction yourself.

If you need transportation call Dial-A-Ride, 348-5409 and they will come and pick you up and take you back home when you are finished without charge.

Landfill Authority Challenges DNR Decision

By Irene Pettyjohn
A DNR denial of a landfill license renewal is being challenged by the Crawford-Otsego Solid Waste Management Authority. The Authority has filed a petition for a contested case hearing with David M. Hales, Department of Natural Resources Director.

The petition was filed less than two weeks after the DNR denied the landfill authority's renewal request.

The DNR's letter of denial listed two areas where the Crawford-Otsego Landfill is in non-compliance with Michigan's solid waste management laws, Act 641. The letter also listed two inadequacies in the license application.

Areas of non-compliance, as cited by the DNR, include degradation of groundwater as a result of the landfill's operation, and that the landfill is being operated without lined trenches and a leachate collection system.

Inadequacies in the application for a license include the lack of certification that the facility has been constructed according to approved engineering plans, and the submission of inadequate engineering plans.

The petition, filed on behalf of the landfill authority by attorney James C. Cotant, of Gaylord, states that the Crawford-Otsego Landfill has complied with Michigan's Act 641, and that operation of the previously licensed landfill has not resulted in groundwater degradation. The petition states that the license application included all appropriate engineering certification for relicensing.

The petition states that the Crawford-Otsego Landfill applied for relicensing before the expiration of its existing license, October 7, 1988. This application was received by Director Hales' office on October 4, 1988, and was denied on February 7, 1989. Michigan law mandates that, "The Director shall make a final decision on a license application within 90 days after the Director receives the application." The petition states that the Crawford-Otsego Landfill was denied a license renewal 34 days after the Director's "time for consideration" had lapsed.

In a telephone interview, Cotant said that the groundwater degradation mentioned in the DNR's denial letter is not coming from the currently operated landfill, but rather the old dump area that operated under Act 87. Cotant said that when the old dumpsite was in operation it complied with Act 87 regulations, yet despite this compliance, groundwater contamination (parts per billion) is now occurring. Cotant contends that this contamination is a separate issue because the Crawford-Otsego Solid Waste Management Authority never operated the old dump.

Jeannette Kitchen, Crawford County Commissioner and member of the landfill authority, said that even though the landfill authority does not accept responsibility for the groundwater contamination occurring beneath the old dumpsite, they are concerned about the degradation of all the County's natural resources. For this reason they have voluntarily capped five acres of the old dump with plastic and intend to cover the remaining area as soon as funds are available. Kitchen said the process is very expensive.

Cotant stated that DNR administrative rules and regulations which address the necessity for lined trenches and leachate collection systems at landfills exempts Counties having a population of less than 50 persons per square mile as of the 1970 census. Crawford-Otsego Landfill qualifies swing of the restrooms doors.

Frederick estimates that it would cost between $1500 and $3,000 to move a wall with plumbing facilities four inches to comply with barrier-free design codes.

The fact that the restrooms in the new CCTA facility did not meet State barrier-free code was discovered by Grayling Township Building Official, Dennis Meyers, during a routine review of the CCTA architectural plans. On April 20, 1988, Meyers advised the project architect of the omission, and the architect responded by assuring Meyers that the building would be in compliance with Michigan Barrier Free Design.

In a letter, dated October 20, 1988, Meyers advised Frederick that on his October 19th inspection of the CCTA facility, he found that none of the restrooms met barrier-free code. He said that either the restrooms would have to be made barrier-free or the facility would have to seek a variance from the Michigan Department of Labor. Meyers further stated that until the building conformed to barrier-free status, the facility could not be certified and approved for occupancy.

In an attempt to learn whether the 4 to 6 inch arc created an impediment to a person confined to a wheelchair, the CCTA invited such an individual to enter the rest-

$3,000,000 Settlement Reached Following Fatal Accident

Settlements have been reached in the lawsuits filed against Crawford County and the Sheriff Department for the August 3, 1985 accident involving a patrol car operated by Lt. Parker and a vehicle operated by Cynthia Maher. Mrs. Maher was killed in the accident. Five children in her car suffered injuries.

Suit was filed on behalf of Kimberly Burk, Melissa Fisher, Tiffany Maher, Scarlett Maher and Jon Maher, alleging the officer was speeding without flashers and sirens coming around a curve on M-72 east of Grayling striking the Maher vehicle as Mrs. Maher was turning into her drive.

The children will receive more than three million dollars over their lifetimes should they live the normal life expectancy, according to a news release issued by their attorney Eugene Petruska of Nelson, Petruska & Allen, P.C. in Gaylord. It is believed to be the largest settlement in Crawford County, the news release said.

Payments to the five children injured in the accident will be paid in both lifetime monthly payments, and additional periodic installments pre-determined by the settlement agreement.

Besides the two lawsuits filed on behalf of the children who were involved in the accident, a third lawsuit has provided for cash settlements to members of Maher's family. Maher's seven children, grandmother, sisters, brother, grandchildren and mother will receive cash settlements ranging from $41,500.00 to $2,000.00 as stipulated in the settlement agreement.

Throughout the lawsuit proceedings, Crawford County contended that the accident occurred because the vehicle operated by Maher turned in front of the vehicle operated by Parker. An attorney representing the county said he could not comment on any part of the settlement.

Barrier Free Code Delays CCTA Occupancy

By Irene Pettyjohn

The Crawford County Transit Authority (CCTA) cannot occupy the office space of their new office/garage complex because none of the four restrooms in the building meet state barrier-free code.

Michigan Department of Labor Barrier Free Design Law stipulates that there must be a 4'x4' barrier-free area in front of a toilet. Dave Frederick, CCTA Director, said that an architectural design error has caused a 4 to 6 inch arc infringement on the mandated 16 square feet by the two office restrooms' inward swinging doors.

Frederick explained that the error occurred because between the time the architectural design was completed in April of 1987 and construction began in June of 1988 the barrier-free requirements had changed, requiring that more space be allowed inside the restrooms. Frederick said that they attempted to solve the problem by swinging the door outward, into the hallway, but this only served to create a potential hazard for anyone in the hallway when either of the restroom doors were opened.

Later CCTA learned that building codes require that a three foot clearance be present in hallways at all times. The CCTA hallway is only four feet wide, removing all possibility of solving the barrier-free problem by reversing the

Schreiner Retires After 17 Years as Treasurer

Allen (Al) Schreiner retired from his position as Grayling City Treasurer on February 28, following a 17 year tenure.

Schreiner came to Grayling in 1971 from Ypsilanti looking for work. The Conductron Corp., where he had worked for eight years as an accountant, had recently closed their Ann Arbor operation, leaving Schreiner without a job. The City Treasurer position was open. Al was hired, and the Schreiners made Grayling their home. Prior to entering the field of accounting, Schreiner had worked for 22 years as a barber with his father and brother.

While working as a barber, Schreiner began attending night classes at Cleary Business College, and had only one class to complete before receiving his Associates Degree in accounting when he accepted the position in Grayling.

Besides his position as City Treasurer Schreiner has served for 10 years on the RSVP Advisory Council, three or four years on the Grayling Housing Commission, and over nearly 18 years in Grayling. Schreiner has served on various committees and boards at his church, the Michelson Memorial United Methodist Church.

Schreiner met the girl who was later to become his wife, when he was four years old. He was acquainted with her from then until a friend said (as Pat and a friend of hers passed the two young men), "You know, there is the girl you ought to marry."

Schreiner said that they followed the girls, talked a bit, and then he asked Pat for a date. The couple was married on April 25, 1947, and will celebrate their 42nd anniversary this spring. Al and Pat have one son, Karl, who works as a Grayling City Police Officer. The Schreiners have two granddaughters, Bethany, 12, and Deborah, 9.

"It is exciting to watch our grandchildren grow," said Schreiner. "You don't realize how fast time goes by until you get grandchildren." He said that first they are little babies, then before you know it they are going to school, and now Bethany is 12 years old and taller than her grandmother.

Schreiner said that he really has not made elaborate plans for his retirement. He said that he has several projects around the house that he wants to accomplish, like painting the trim. He wants to plant a vegetable garden, and work on their flower beds.

Schreiner's hobbies include fishing, camping, and needlepoint. His needlepoint projects decorate not only the Schreiner home, but he has given many of his pieces away as gifts. The Schreiners intend to do some traveling, to Florida for a month during the colder weather (something they have been doing for several years), and Pat has family in California she would like to visit.

Retirement for Schreiner means that he will be able to approach his daily schedule selecting what tasks he is going to do, and then deciding when he will begin and end the task. He said that he intends to stay active, and not become a couch potato, but he is looking forward to the freedom of decision that retirement offers.

rooms, move about and make a recommendation regarding any problems the swinging doors might present. The individual stated that the restrooms were adequate to his needs, and found the space ample for his wheelchair.

With this recommendation, Frederick and the architect submitted an Application for Barrier Free Design Rule Exception with the Michigan Department of Labor on November 8, 1988. On January 19th Frederick and the architect presented their case before an Administrative Law Judge for his recommendation. On January 31st, Judge Roy L. Roulhac, recommended to the Barrier Free Design Board (the final authority) that the applicant be granted an exception.

This recommendation was not acted upon by the Barrier Free Design Board. Instead they denied the architect's request concluding that compelling need had not been demonstrated. The Board determined that the cost of bringing the restrooms into compliance was not so great as to create an economic need to the CCTA, and also because the "infringement is minimal" plea was not a compelling need in accordance with the State statute.

The Barrier Free Design Board is a citizen panel appointed by the Governor. Its members include an architect, a professional engineer, a building official, a building contractor, a severely mobility limited person, a wheelchair user, a person with a hearing impairment, and a representative of the general public.

Frederick stated that the documents regarding the barrier-free problem have been turned over to attorney, David Sabin, for his recommendation whether the CCTA should take their case to Circuit Court for a judgement ruling.

"To make a major expenditure, and I believe $1500 is a major expenditure," Frederic said, "considering that no significant gain in accessibility will be achieved for anyone, is unwarranted unless every option has been exhausted. We do not like spending taxpayers money unnecessarily."

Meyers issued a temporary occupancy permit to the CCTA to occupy the garage portion of the new transportation building. The 60-day permit was issued while a decision is being reached on whether to appeal the exception denial to Circuit Court, or engage in alterations in the design of the restrooms to conform to Barrier Free Design Standards.

Meyers said that, in his opinion, the barrier-free problem at the new CCTA facility was completely unnecessary. He said that even if the State Construction Code did change, it is the responsibility of persons in the construction business to stay updated on new building codes and regulations.

"When it comes to legalities," Meyers said, "opinions do not count."

The new Crawford County Transit Authority building cost approximately $461,000, and was financed by federal (75%) and state (25%) funds. It is located along N. Down River Rd. just east of I-75.

ments are usually very costly and can take months to facilitate.

"If we have to close the landfill," Kitchen said, "the curbside disposal fees will escalate dramatically, and in a very short time our beautiful wooded surroundings will be plastic garbage bags as far as the eye can see."

John MacGregor, Deputy Director for Region II, said that the DNR is developing a consent order detailing where the Crawford-Otsego Landfill is in non-compliance with Michigan laws, and setting a timetable for the completion of the necessary changes at the landfill site.

In the meantime, DNR Regional II Headquarters, located in Roscommon, has notified its agencies that the Crawford-Otsego Landfill is in non-compliance with landfill regulations, and that they are not to utilize the facility. All state agencies in this area must now transport their refuse to the nearest licensed landfill, which is either the Montmorency-Oscoda or Charlevoix Landfills.

Milltown Button Contest Deadline is March 17

Artists - get out your pen and pencils and win a $50 cash prize for the winning entry for the Grayling Promotional Association's Milltown button contest. The deadline is March 17. They should be turned in to Betty Bennett, P.O. Box 299, Grayling or to Mac's Drug Store by that date.

Specifications for the drawings are:

1. A round design that could be drawn anywhere from 5" to 2 1/4" in diameter since the design can be reduced in size at the printers.
2. A line drawing; if there is to be color on it, it should be specified as it is easier for the printer to color it than copy the color.
3. Should include the words "AuSable Milltown Festival, July 28-31, 1989, Grayling, Michigan."

Commission Adopts Emergency Rules for Toxic, Solid Waste Cleanup

Over the objections of some businesses and legislators, the Natural Resources Commission has unanimously approved emergency rules for the cleanup of toxic and solid waste dump sites in Michigan.

Officials said the emergency rules were required in order to put to use this year some of the $425 million in cleanup funds of a $660 million bond program approved by voters in November.

The rules will be used to implement the cleanup of more than 2,000 contaminated sites in the state. They will also be used to identify sites, allow for the distribution of funds, notify responsible parties and require reimbursement where public funds have been expended.

Natural Resources Director David F. Hales praised the NRC for taking "exactly the right action and one that the voters expected them to take. I think the public interest was served."

That feeling was not shared by everybody, however. In separate letters to the NRC, Sens. Ed Fredricks (R-Holland) and Jack Welborn (R-Kalamazoo) opposed use of emergency rules, which are immediately effective, instead of permanent rules which must undergo a public hearing and legislative approval process.

"I'm opposed to emergency rules unless there is a health or safety crisis," Welborn said. "The only urgent crisis here is for the DNR to spend money without public comment."

But NRC member Kerry Kammer praised the DNR for doing "as good a job as possible getting public input. I'm satisfied the department has made a case for emergency rules."

Hales said the DNR talked to over 300 people on the issue of toxic waste, and met with about the same number on solid waste.

Representatives from various businesses asked the NRC to either forego implementation of emergency rules or delay approval for two weeks so the entire rules package could be reviewed.

"We're not convinced the situation calls for emergency rules," said Andy Such, associate vice president for regulatory affairs for the Michigan Manufacturers Association. "We feel there must be a clear and imminent threat to the people of the state before emergency rules are enacted."

But Hales said waiting for permanent rules would likely mean that none of the bond money would be spent for cleanup in this fiscal year, most critically during the summer construction season.

"I don't think it's acceptable to delay the bond funds until 1990 or 1991. We developed a public criteria for spending this money. The only practical way in 1989 to use this money was this way (emergency rules)," he said.

Hales disputed the claims made by Fredricks and Welborn that emergency rules skirt public comment or legislative involvement, noting that the Legislature must approve the appropriation before the money is spent.

He also said businesses failed to provide the NRC with any "substantive reasons" as to why the emergency rules should not be enacted. "This is obviously not all of a sudden," he said, referring to one businessman's complaint that the emergency rules are being enacted seven years after Act 307 was signed into law.

"We never had the money available. Now that the funds are available, to leave poison in Michigan's environment is inexcusable," Hales said. "More delays are not going to protect anybody in Michigan. Each day we delay means more money to clean it up."

DNR Deputy Director Tom Martin said permanent rules have been under development "for years. It's a very difficult area to get a consensus," adding that they contain more controversial provisions than the emergency rules.

The rules are effective for six months and will go into effect once they are filed with the Secretary of State's office, a process that could take less than two weeks.

The NRC adopted the emergency rules with an agreement to continue working with "interested parties" and the Legislature toward coming up with permanent rules.

D.P.H. Official Predicts Programs Will Slow Spread of A.I.D.S.

A top Department of Public Health official said recently that despite an increase in the number of AIDS cases Michigan is projected to have by 1992, efforts being made by the state to control the spread of the disease will make a difference.

Michigan's number of AIDS cases could increase to as many as 6,845 in 1992 from its current level of 956, based on a study conducted by the department's Disease Surveillance Section.

Randy Pope, director of the Office on AIDS Prevention, said additional money from both state and federal sources has enabled the state to implement prevention programs which will have an impact. "I'm very optimistic that the public health prevention programs will go a long way towards preventing new infection," he said.

This year's funds exceed $10 million, Pope said, compared to just $200,000 for the prevention effort three years ago. However, Pope said even though the state has had an increasing amount with which to work, additional money will be needed from different sources to continue the efforts.

Pet Owners Deserve Recognition for Donation

I cannot express how very perturbed I have become.

Early this year your paper ran an article asking for volunteer dogs "to be trained as Leader Dogs for the Blind." I answered the same day as I had a white Lab. named Polar Bear about a year old, gentle and in good health. The lady came and looked at the dog, the releases were signed. The dog was perfect. This morning March 1st at 10 a.m., the lady came and got the dog, I took off my collar, she put on hers and Polar was off to help the blind.

Then much to my surprise on the March 1st 11 p.m. Channel 9/10 news. I find that my dog is a stray dog, that the leader dog people are saving him and several other strays. From certain death at the hands of the Crawford County Animal Shelter who have in turn donated these very curs. to the leader dog people.

Not a word for the people who donated their pets to this supposedly worthy cause. I feel that the actions and the responsible persons involved in this are despicable!

The crowning of our granddaughter Dawn Marie Elekonich was an event we will cherish the rest of our lives.

We would like to extend our heartfelt gratitude to all the pageant members from the director Christine Holtz to the pageant Moms to whom without their endeavoring love there would not be a pageant, also to all the young ladies in the pageant. A special thanks to June Ginter, Dawn's pageant Mom who worked so hard with her. Our appreciation also to the people of Grayling, the merchants who supplied their time, support and gifts, the Avalanche, and the radio station W.G.R.Y.

It's gratifying to know every young lady of this community has an opportunity to fulfill their dreams in this fine town Grayling.

So, again sounding like a broken record, many thanks Grayling, you have done our hearts proud and a special thanks to Dawn Marie for her hard work.

Democrats head for the sea

EVIDENCE KEEPS PILING up that the national Democratic party views the 1988 election returns as something of a quirk.

The controlling wisdom among controlling Democrats seems to be that their party didn't do anything wrong in 1988 ... that it's really on the right track ... that somehow if they keep doing what they're doing, things will turn out all right and they will elect the next president of the United States.

After all, the Democrats control Congress, they hold a majority of governorships, and they dominate state legislatures. They must be doing something right.

MORE OF THE SAME is what has been happening since George Bush won in a landslide last November, and the selection of Ronald Brown as the new Democratic national chairman is a case in point.

Mr. Brown takes to his office some historic credentials. He is the first black to head either national party organization. That's not why he was picked, as he acknowledged himself.

"There is no need to dwell on, but we cannot ignore, the history of the moment," Mr. Brown said, after his selection. "The story of my chairmanship won't be about race. It will be about the races we win over the next four years."

BUT RON BROWN takes to his new office some other credentials as well, all of them from the northern urban, liberal part of the party.

Mr. Brown served as general counsel and staff director for Sen. Edward Kennedy, and was deputy chair of the 1980 Kennedy presidential campaign, which attempted to dump incumbent President Jimmy Carter.

More recently, he was Jesse Jackson's chairman at the Atlanta Democratic convention, and earlier worked on behalf of Walter Mondale's presidential campaign.

Between times, he has been a Washington lobbyist and lawyer. In short, his party credentials are northern and liberal: very similar to those of most of the recent failed Democratic presidential candidates.

MR. BROWN HAS quite a job, if he is to re-direct the Democratic party thrust to successfully challenge the second candidacy of George Bush in 1992. It will be a tough job — if it is even undertaken.

The same Democratic structure, which selected Ron Brown as national chairman less than a year ago picked Michael Dukakis as its presidential nominee. The party leadership seems to be in a mold with both men.

The party's nominating process "has its own inner logic and momentum," as noted by GOP-leaning columnist George Will.

"The Democratic Party is now essentially a party of blacks and white liberals who are disproportionately public employees," columnist Wills claims.

Greg Schneiders, a former aide to President Carter and now a political consultant, claims the Democrats have failed to address the issues of economic growth, national defense and foreign policy "in a very compelling way."

"The most significant thing about the Democratic Party today," says Mr. Schneiders, "is that it is not seen by most Americans as a presidential party."

The selection of Ron Brown to head the party does not portend, recognition to those problems, much less solution of them.

DEMOCRATS' PRESIDENTIAL fascination with the northern and liberal elements of the country is underlined by results of probably the first presidential preferred poll of the 1992 campaign.

An ABC News survey of Democrats in January picked the front-runners for the 1992 campaign against Mr. Bush. Leading the pack was Sen. Ted Kennedy, with New York Gov. Mario Cuomo as second choice, and Gov. Dukakis and Rev. Jackson tied for third — all northern, all urban, all liberal.

If that's really the way Democrats feel — and there's no reason to believe they don't — then Chairman Brown has a gigantic task ahead of him.

But then, Democrats may enjoy being political lemmings, following their destiny — and each other — into the sea.

Northern Views

By Jon Thompson

Like a stubborn fly you can't shoo away, used plastic milk jugs and other plastic containers have refused to go away. Hard to burn, bury, or re-use, discarded plastic containers have become a big part of the mounting problem in our dumps.

As much as 20 billion pounds of plastic gets tossed each year in America, says National Geographic, and less than 1 percent is recycled.

But there's new hope. Some used plastic containers are being recycled and used to make carpets, corrugated pipe, blankets, and park benches.

Even detergent and ketchup bottles, made from plastic previously incompatible, can be blended into new material to make everything from fence posts to automobile barriers. This blended material can be nailed, screwed, cut, and planed, just like wood.

Even dirty garbage bags, once considered beyond salvaging, can be blended with other plastics to make a lumber substitute, says National Geographic.

"We're doing research now to see if we can make these commingled plastics load-bearing," says Darrell Morrow, director of the Center for Plastics Recycling Research at Rutgers University. "Being imperious to weather and insects, the material would make wonderful railroad ties..."

Absence of an assured source of used plastics has made it hard for recyclers. Only nine states and three Canadian provinces have deposit laws for the return of empties. Only five states, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut, and Florida have statewide compulsory curbside collection of recyclables such as glass, aluminum, paper, and plastics. National Geographic says other states are expected to follow as they run out of landfill space.

Most of the rest of the nation realizes the need to recycle but hasn't turned thought into action yet.

At least at the local level, the Crawford-Otsego Landfill Authority is moving ahead. The landfill can recycle plastic, paper, cardboard, steel, and aluminum. A big problem is getting people to separate their garbage. Camp Lehman crews do some sorting at the landfill but it would be easier if residents did the separating. Someday most residents will simply throw plastics into one bag, tin cans in another, and keep paper or cardboard separate from other garbage.

Someday this throw-away society will be a recycling society. Someday sooner than you think.

CHOOSING THE RIGHT CONTACT LENS

QUESTION: How does a person know what type of contact lens to choose?

"CORNELL CORNER"

With auto thefts on the rise around the country, there's increased interest in any method that will deter a thief. Here's one that seems to be effective: etching the car's vehicle identification number on all its windows (except the small vent windows).

Reason: these marked cars are easy to trace, which makes them less attractive to "chop shops" that handle stolen cars for resale as is or broken up for parts. The windows would have to be removed for the parts to be sold.

Auto dealers and many police departments have information on this kind of window etching. Sand-blast etching must be done professionally and can be expensive, but do-it-yourself kits are available at low cost.

Best of all, the car owner saves twice. Not only does this window identification save the hassle and the expense that go with having one's car stolen, but some insurance companies offer a discount on the comprehensive premium of the auto policy.

Mrs. F. Wood, Mrs. E. Kellogg, Mrs. M. McCormick and Mrs. A. Doby of Lovells were in Grayling March 6 as luncheon guests of Mrs. Lola Papenfus, the occasion also honoring the birthday of Mrs. McCormick.

Dennis Lovely is visiting at his home here for a few days. He begins work Tuesday at the bomber plant at Willow Run.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Failing of Detroit spent the first of the week visiting the former's sister, Mrs. Howard Bunker and family.

Miss Francelia Malloy of Ann Arbor was a weekend guest of her brother, Clifford Malloy and family.

A Report to the Supporters of the Committee Opposed to Mandatory Catch and Release Regulations on the Main Stream of the AuSable River

As you are undoubtedly aware the Appellate Court reversed Judge Alton Davis' ruling and voided the permanent injunction against Catch and Release Regulations on the Main Stream of the AuSable River.

This decision ends the Committee's effort to obtain DNR regulations that would permit individual trout fishermen to decide whether to keep or release their legally caught trout in the involved section of the Main Stream of our beloved AuSable River.

The ruling was doubly disappointing to your Committee as we never questioned the authority of the NRC to make such decisions, we questioned the reasonableness and equity of the ruling as it was contrary to the recommendations of the DNR Fish Biologists, and, Judge Davis, after listening to the evidence presented in his Court, first granted a temporary injunction in the spring of 1986, and in the following year, after a requested review by the State, granted a permanent injunction in the spring of 1987.

Your Committee feels that our attorney, Mr. Ronald C. Wilson, did an exceptionally outstanding job, and our efforts did bring us three years of freedom from the arbitrary Catch and Release regulations on the Main Stream.

Your Committee feels you should also be informed of our financial status and we therefore make this last report.

You supporters contributed $17,594.37 in cash, and our other fund raising activities earned another $6,021.97, for a total of $23,616.34. After paying all bills, including this advertisement, we were short a few dollars and your officers made up the balance, closing out our financial affairs.

Your Officers and Directors are keenly appreciative of your generous financial support which made our three year fight possible, and, we are confident, that, as the true Sportsmen you all are, you will accept our defeat gracefully and in the true spirit of sportsmanship.

Your Committee believes that the results of Catch and Release Regulations, over the years, will be as Dr. Behnke predicted — not increased sized trout, but stunted, undernourished trout, because of inadequate food supply for the increased, unharvested trout population, with the increased winter kill such undernourishment is bound to bring on.

If that forecast comes to pass, we trust the NRC will recognize the negative results of Catch and Release Regulations and will adopt reasonable harvesting regulations which will permit fishermen to keep legally caught trout if they prefer.

Altho we recognize there is much bitterness and resentment in the hearts of many of our supporters, we sincerely trust there will be no physical acts to mar our good fight even though we were eventually defeated.

By the Officers and Directors of the Committee Opposed to Mandatory Catch and Release Regulations.

Georgia-Pacific Plant Receives Safety Award

The Georgia-Pacific Beaver Creek resin plant has received the 1988 Vice President's Safety Award for having no employee accidents during the year.

"The Beaver Creek facility is among our safest plants," said James R. Taylor, vice president of the Chemical Division. "I attribute this not only to good design of the plant, but also to good management and good training," noted Taylor. "When the plant opened, we recruited a high-quality workforce from the area and then conducted on-site training at another plant."

The plant, now in its third year of operation, has utilized the most advanced manufacturing techniques and equipment available.

Georgia-Pacific's Chemical Division operates 15 plants in the United States manufacturing formaldehyde or adhesive resins.

Juried Arts & Crafts Show Slated for Milltown Festival

While watching snow continue to fall, it is difficult to visualize a warm summer day in the City Park with seventy Fine Arts and Crafts Exhibitors lining the banks of the AuSable. For the artists and craftspeople who wish to participate in the Fifteenth Annual Milltown Arts and Country Crafts Show on July 28 and 29, now is the time to begin registrations.

Applicants must submit a minimum of four photos or slides of their work to be considered for admission, as this is a juried show. A juried show, according to Milltown Committee sponsors Christine Szajner and Nancy Hatfield, assures the public of high quality exhibits. All submitted material will be returned with an acknowledgement.

Each year exhibitors working in mediums such as stained glass, pen and ink, pottery, as well as areas such as quilting and hand-painted clothing, have been included in the Annual Show along with a comprehensive and varied field of other artisans and craftspeople.

The State of Michigan, Council for the Arts, includes the Milltown Fine Arts and Country Crafts Show in its annual schedule of Michigan Arts and Crafts Shows and Fairs. This book is available to state and out-of-state residents and has a positive impact on the number of patrons at such shows.

Each display area will be 10 feet by 10 feet for only a $25 fee, but the AuSable River scenery is included free of charge! If you wish to apply contact:

Jack Alef

Alef, Cason Honored For 68 Years of Service

The Grayling State Bank has announced the retirement of two employees who together have served 68 years with Grayling's oldest banking establishment. Jack Alef, Chairman of the Board, with 38 years, and Marie Cason, Vice President, with 30 years, will be retiring from the bank as of March 31st.

Alef has been a mover and a shaker in Grayling since his arrival in 1951. He began his banking career at the Grayling State Bank in 1951 as Cashier. In 1957 Alef became an Executive Vice-President and Cashier, and in 1958 he became President/Cashier. Alef served as the President of the Grayling State Bank until 1987 when he became Chairman of the Board.

As an officer of what for many years was the only banking institution in Grayling, Alef had the opportunity to help many Grayling residents secure necessary business, home and personal loans. Loans that often meant the difference between making it through Grayling's lean winter months and having to move downstate where work could be found.

Alef was born in Detroit and grew up in Grosse Pointe, where he attended St. Paul's School. He attended the University of Notre Dame. His college education was interrupted by World War II. After Pearl Harbor, Alef enlisted in the Army, and served in the infantry from 1942 to the end of the war. During the Battle of the Bulge, Alef received a battlefield promotion to Second Lieutenant. Later he was wounded and was awarded the Purple Heart. Alef also received the Bronze Star and numerous other battle stars. When the war was over he returned to the University of Notre Dame to complete his education.

Alef has been interested in the banking profession since he was a young man. While he was in high school Alef worked as a messenger boy for the Webeek State Bank, advancing to the positions of distribution clerk and a bookkeeping poster. Following college graduation, Alef returned to the Webeek State Bank and held various positions such as savings teller, commercial teller, and collection teller.

Alef came to Grayling after he met Walter Truettner, then president of the Grayling State Bank. He came to Grayling on a trial basis. His employer in Detroit had promised to hire him back at the end of five years, if he still wanted his job. Alef said that by the end of five years, Grayling had become his home.

Alef married Gloria Moore, whose father was both the bank's attorney and the Crawford County's prosecuting attorney. He and Gloria have raised five children, John, Jim, Mary, Danny, and Jenny.

The list of Alef's community involvement is impressive. He has been a member of the Commission on Aging for many years, served on the Mercy Hospital finance committee, and helped to form the Military Affairs Committee. Alef served as president of Crawford County's American Cancer Society and began the 'Kick-Off Luncheons' sponsored by the Grayling State Bank, that continues today.

"The 'Kick-Off Luncheon' for the cancer crusade canvassers is important," said Alef, "because it is always important to remember to say thank you for a job well done. I hope the tradition will continue."

Alef is president of the Camp Grayling Minuteman Foundation, a project he intends to stay involved with after his retirement. In fact, Alef said that there are several pet projects he intends to continue to support. These projects include the promotion of the National Guard, and the self-improvement of the entire area of Grayling. He also intends to retain his position on the Crawford County Housing Commission.

Alef said that he will retain his directorship at the bank, which includes attending monthly meetings, serving on committees as assigned, and working as a consultant on projects where he possesses expertise.

Listening to Alef detail his retirement schedule it becomes apparent that in order for Alef to accomplish his many "pet projects" he will have to continue to answer the alarm clock for years and years to come.

"That's okay," said Alef, "I have been rising at 6:00 a.m. since I was in high school. I do not anticipate any change in my routine just because I am retiring."

The Alef's first order of retirement will be a month long vacation to sunny weather and visits with many friends, something they have never done before. After the vacation is over, they will be returning to their home in Grayling.

"I love Grayling," Alef said. "I do not want to live anywhere else." He said that the people of Grayling are Ivory Soap people: 99 and 44/100 pure.

Marie Cason began her career at the Grayling State Bank on March 4, 1959 as a bookkeeper. During her 30 years at the bank she has received promotions from bookkeeper to teller, administrative assistant, assistant vice-president and then to her current position, vice-president.

Cason met her future husband, Grover, while they were both working for Burroughs Adding Machines in Detroit. They married in 1939.

The Casons moved to Grayling in 1949 to build a motel. They selected Grayling because they wanted to build their motel north of US-27, M-18, and M-78. They built the Triangle Motel and operated it for five years before they sold it to Joe and Norma Hull. The Triangle Motel has since been renamed the Pointe North Motel. Cason and her husband also built the building complex that houses the Sears, McLean's Hardware, Saveway Laundromat, Dairy Queen, Continental Rental and Little Caesars businesses. They operated the Saveway Laundromat, which was the first coin operated laundromat in Grayling.

Cason was a member of the Grayling Woman's Club for several years and she and her husband worked with the Grayling Winter Sports Carnival's Queen's Pageant.

Retirement holds mixed emotions for Cason. She is looking forward to having more time with her husband, but said that she will miss her daily contact with her co-workers at the bank and the opportunity to meet different people from the community that working has always provided.

Volleyball Team Moves Ahead in District Play

The girls varsity volleyball team traveled to Benzle Central for their first pre-district game, and advanced towards district play by defeating Benzle, 15-3 and 15-4. Total game time was 30 minutes.

Cocher Becky Brown said that Grayling was able to overpower Benzle Central for several reasons. Benzle did not have strong setting, and were never able to establish a rhythm. On the other hand, Grayling came to the meet having experienced several strong practices.

Lisa Kimball led the team with serves, serving 10 for 10. Sheryl Klinger had 7, Janice LaDuke 6, Deanna Phelps 5, and Patti Tremblay 4. Klinger led all setters with 29.

Brown explained that because Benzle did not attack, but mostly free-balled it over the net, Grayling did not have many blocks. Phelps had 4 and Stephenson 3.

Phelps led attacks with 10 spikes and 4 tips. Tremblay had 6 spikes and 5 tips, Stephenson 4 spikes, 4 tips, LaDuke 5 spikes and 1 tip.

Brown said that everyone on the team played, and contributed to the win.

To add depth to her bench during tournament play, Brown brought up two J.V. players, Laurie Mier and Shannon Glizinski.

The win against Benzle Central has enabled Grayling to play against Elk Rapids on Tuesday, March 7, at Harbor Springs.

Brown said that Elk Rapids is a tall team but is confident that Grayling can beat them. Grayling played Elk Rapids on Saturday, Feb. 25, at the Kalkaska Invitational Meet and defeated them, 15-5 and 15-6. Beating Elk Rapids would allow Grayling to play the winner of the Lake City/Kingsley game on Wednesday, March 8, in Harbor Springs. The winner of that game will play (probably Rogers City) for the District Championship and advance to the Regional Tournament.

On Saturday, Feb. 25, Grayling participated in the Kalkaska Invitational Meet. Grayling beat Kalkaska, 15-7 and 15-4; Elk Rapids, 15-5 and 15-6; and Gaylord St. Mary's, 15-9 and 15-5. They split with Glen Lake 16-14 and 9-15; and lost to Petoskey, 9-15 and 5-15.

In the Kalkaska Invitational Meet only the first and second place teams advance to the finals, and Glen Lake edged Grayling out of second place by one point.

Kimball led the team in total serves with 40. Phelps had 37, Tremblay 31, Stephenson 24, Klinger 22, Margarita Perez 20, and LaDuke 8.

Klinger led all setters with 145.

Phelps led blocking with 25. Stephenson has 17. Klinger and Tremblay had 4 each. Perez 2.

Defensively, Tremblay and Kimball had over 80 passes for the day.

Tremblay led her team in attacks with 47 spikes and 10 tips. Phelps had 30 spikes and 21 tips, Klinger 24 spikes and 9 tips, Stephenson 21 spikes and 20 tips, LaDuke 13, Perez 10 and Kimball 9.

Grayling met St. Ignace on Monday night for a make-up game, and played inconsistently, losing 12-15, 6-15, 15-10, and 7-15.

Brown said that Grayling lost the match because they did not play the kind of volleyball the team is capable of playing.

Tremblay led in serves with 17. Klinger had 15, Kimball 12, Phelps 9, LaDuke and Perez had 6 each, and Stephenson 5.

Klinger led all setters with 84.

Tremblay led attacks with 25 spikes and 11 tips. Stephenson had 10 spikes and 11 tips, Phelps 8 spikes and 7 tips, Klinger 7 tips, LaDuke and Perez had 4 tips each.

Stephenson led blocking with 11 and Phelps had 10.

Brown said that, defensively, Tremblay was strong for the team, as was Perez and Phelps.

Cohen Wins Skating National Championship

Grayling's part-time resident, Debra S. Cohen, has won a major repeat speed skating double by winning the National and North American Outdoor Speed Skating Championships for Junior Women.

Cohen of Northbrook, Illinois, won her second straight National Junior Women Speed Skating Championship in Butte, Montana. After posting two Junior Women National records on Saturday, January 28, 1989, in the 1,500 and 500 meters, Cohen was within 20 meters of a third record when she miscalculated the finish line in the 1,000 meter event. Wisconsin's Amy Sohnle, who had drafted Cohen for two laps, finished first only .22 of a second ahead of Cohen with a record in that event and tightening the competition. Both Cohen and Sohnle were 7 seconds under the National record and Cohen bested the National 1,500 meter record by over 11 seconds. After Cohen miscalculated in the 1,000, she came back to win the 800 meter race in the tactical battle and then breezed to a victory in the 300 meter sprint.

Debra Cohen's brother, Aaron Cohen, captured fourth place overall in the Juvenile Boys Division of the National Outdoor Speed Skating Championships.

The following weekend, February 4 and 5, 1989, surviving bitterly cold and windy conditions, Cohen won her second major speed skating championship in Winnipeg, Canada by successfully defending her North American Title for Junior Women. Cohen won all four events (four gold medals) during the championship - the 500, 800, 1000 and 1500. She also recorded the fastest times for all women competing in the pack-style championships at both the National and North American Championships.

Debra is a member of the Northbrook Speed Skating Club, the 1988/89 U.S. Indoor and 1989/90 Outdoor Speed Skating Teams, and the 1988 U.S. Junior Women's World Cycling Teams. In addition, Cohen is an honors student in high school where she maintains an A+ average. In 1988, Debra earned "Skater of the Year" from the Amateur Skating Association of Illinois and the Northbrook Speed Skating Club, the "Cyclist of the Year" from the Northbrook Bicycle Club and the "Junior Woman Cyclist of the Year" award from the Illinois Cycling Association.

Going For The Gold

Grayling native Brett Stockton reported to the Olympic training camp in Melbourne, Fla., on Feb. 26 to train in Kayak racing until May 1st. Then he will aim to compete in the Olympic Sports Festival Trials, European Team Trials, Olympic Sports Festival, and National Kayak Championship, all during the summer of 1989.

Although the 1992 Olympics are 3 years away, the road to the gold is a long one for Stockton and other hopefuls.

America is one of the few countries which doesn't subsidize its Olympic athletes. Stockton and others rely on contributions, mainly from their hometown areas.

You can help Brett represent the U.S. by sending a donation, even small amounts are appreciated, to the

SPORTS FANS!

I Bet You Didn't Know

Brought To You By Bob White Sales Representative

Did you know that in the NCAA tournament for the men's major college basketball championship, the last 4 final games have all been decided by 4 points or less... In the 1988 final, Kansas beat Oklahoma 83-79... In 1987 Indiana beat Syracuse 74-73... In 1986 Louisville beat Duke 72-69... And in 1985 Villanova beat Georgetown 66-64.

Here's an oddity... There's a college basketball conference that has TWO teams with the SAME name...The ECAC Metro Conference has St. Francis and St. Francis... One St. Francis is in Brooklyn, N.Y., and the other in Loretto, Pa... Since they're in the same conference, they play each other twice every year—St. Francis College vs. St. Francis College.

There was once a big league baseball batter who was almost impossible to strike out...Joe Sewell, a shortstop in the 1920s, holds several records for fewest strikeouts by a regular player—and one year he played 115 straight games, going to bat 437 times, without ever striking out!

I bet you didn't know... there's big rebates, small interest rates, small, medium, and large cars and trucks, and big deals from medium size salespeople on a huge selection of new cars at Scheer Motors today. Make a big effort and come see us!

Girl Scouts Visit Maternity Ward, Museum

On February 7th we went to the maternity ward at Mercy Hospital to see the babies. They were very nice. One was very small and one was big. The nurses were very nice. They answered all of our questions. It takes a lot of work to take care of babies. A lot of girls in my troop 2045 are thinking about being nurses.

On February 21 we visited the museum. It was a lot of fun. While we were there we learned a lot about Grayling history. Mrs. Akers was our guide at the museum. We saw a lot about Chief Shoppenagons, old telephones, old fashioned clothes and Fred Bear.

Thanks to the many nice people in Grayling, we've learned a lot this year.

The Gospel of John

Part #88
Servants of Love
"So after he had washed their feet, and had taken his garments, and was set down again, he said unto them, Know ye what I have done to you?" (John 13:12). The disciples were challenged to think about what Jesus was teaching them when He washed their feet. He then reminds them of who He really is. "Ye call me Master and Lord: and ye say well; for so I am." (John 13:13). It is reminding them as He did in John 8:24 and 58 that He is the "I AM." Jehovah God of the Bible. He washed their feet as their Master or teacher of truth, and as their Lord or sovereign God. He wanted them to know He was aware of who He was, when he took the form of a servant and washed their feet.

He then gives His disciples an exhortation on Christian service. "If I then your Lord and Master, have washed your feet; ye also ought to wash one another's feet." (John 13:14). While the washing of dirty feet was literal, it also carried a symbolism of spiritual cleansing. As Paul said in Galatians 6:1: "Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such an one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted." Mutual cleansing is not done in an attitude of superiority and sovereignty, but with the heart and hands of a servant. We cleanse others not in pride and self-righteousness, but in humility and meekness, knowing each of us is capable of the same kind of sin.

The creator God of the universe left His throne in heaven to come to earth to become a humble servant, dying on the cross for our sins, that He might cleanse us with His precious blood. (Phil. 2:5-11). He has given us an example of how we should be willing to be a servant for others. "For I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you." (John 13:15). If our Lord did all of this for us, how much more should we be willing to be servants to others. "Verily, verily, I say unto you, The servant is not greater than his Lord; neither he that is sent greater than he that sent him." (John 13:16). As our Lord said to the Father: "As thou hast sent me into the world, even so have I also sent them into the world." (John 17:18). We know why He came: "For the Son of man is come to save that which was lost." (Matt. 18:11).

Yielded Christian service is the key to happiness. "If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them." (John 13:17). It is not knowledge, but obedience to God's truth which makes us happy. Obedience to our Lord Jesus Christ is the key to eternal happiness here and now.

Peanut Butter and Jelly Sandwiches

Years ago, when a coal miner went down into the depths of dark tunnels and shafts, he took with him two things - a lunch pail and a carbide lamp.

At the end of a shift when he got home, the miner put away his lamp and opened up his lunch bucket. From it he would remove two uneaten peanut butter and jelly sandwiches. Each day he would eat whatever was packed in his lunch, but would not touch the two sandwiches and jelly sandwiches as long as he was down in the mines.

More so in the old days than today, there was always the threat of a disaster occurring. For this reason, he saved the two sandwiches. It meant hope of survival, something to eat, should he ever become trapped. The miner knew well he must always save something in reserve.

Prayer - It is the peanut butter that satisfies our hunger in time of need and the jelly that sweetens our life. Secondly, worshipping in God's house. It is a spiritual lamp.

Prayer daily and attend services frequently. Sandwich them together. They are the mainstays of religious sustenance.

Moved by Sloan, supported by Latusek that the minutes of the meeting of January 30, 1989 be approved as presented. Ayes: 4, Nays: 0, Absent: 1, motion carried.

Citizens who wish to speak: None.

Communications were received and noted.

From C.C.T.A. re: Meeting Minutes of 1-25-89. Mr. Sloan asked about the new building problems. Mr. Morford responded.

From Fire Chief re: January Department Report.

From City Treasurer re: January Finance Statement & Comments.

From City Manager re: Public Management Article.

From M.M.L. re: Worker's Comp. Insurance Group Surplus Distribution.

Mr. Morford presented Council with another letter from Mr. Rosezyk.

Moved by Golnick, supported by Latusek that a Public Hearing be set for March 13, 1989 regarding the proposed rezoning. Ayes: 4, Nays: 0, Absent: 1, motion carried.

From Police Department re: Monthly Department Report.

Old Business: None.

New Business:

Discussion took place regarding a parcel of school property located across the street from the Football Field. The Crawford Ausable School District and the Grayling Booster's Club requested the City Council to consider vacation and abandonment of that portion of Plum Street to allow for development of the property for use as a Little League Practice Field, Soccer Field and Basketball Courts for local youth. Mr. Paul Lerg and Mr. John Alef Jr. were present to explain their project. Mr. Lerg stated that no action was being requested to night because Mr. Thompson was not in attendance. He noted that the area would be fenced and that nothing would be built on the city's sewer main which crosses the property. The area would be an enlarged playground and a district addition to the school recreation program. It was agreed to place the matter on a later Agenda for discussion by the full Council.

The City Manager presented to the Council and audience a proposal for reconstruction of 3 blocks of downtown Michigan Avenue. He suggested paving the area prior to Memorial Day. One of the proposed changes would be to narrow the street by approximately 12 feet and increasing the sidewalk area. He noted what he felt were the advantages of this plan. Mr. Richard Wieber spoke in opposition to the narrowing of the street. Mr. Tom Schans asked about the left turn lane and how far back it would extend from the stop light. Mr. Morford responded. Ms. Schans asked who would pay for the decorative lighting. She also stated that she opposed the narrowing of Michigan Avenue. Mr. Kraus stated that he was vehemently opposed to the narrowing of the street because of the traffic back-up for left turns during the summer. He also was of the opinion that parking would be hurt because of the narrow street. Mrs. Kraus brought in letters from two other business people opposing the street narrowing. Mr. John Huss stated that as long as the Ambulance and Sheriff Department are located where they are, it would be more difficult to move the emergency vehicles if the street were narrowed. Mr. Morford replied that this had been considered in the design of the street. Mr. Huss noted that in many cities, streets are being widened rather than narrowed. Ms. McNamara agreed with Mr. Huss and asked if a left turn lane had been considered. Mr. Golnick noted that he has tried for several years to get a left turn lane established but has been turned down by the Highway Department. Mr. Bob McCurdy stated that he had no desire for 6 more feet of sidewalk. The suggestion was made to consider delaying this project. Mr. Golnick replied that it certainly was not necessary to do the project this year. Several opinions were expressed on different subjects. It was apparently the general opinion of those attending that they would rather the street remain as it is at present. Mr. Wieber stated that if funds or street design were a major problem it might be better to delay this project until another year.

Mr. Golnick opened for Council, discussion of the street construction project on Michigan Avenue. Mr. Morford asked if Council wished to order the engineering completed for the project. Ms. Latusek asked about construction cost. Mr. Leonard Graf stated that total cost would be about $240,000.00.

Mr. Golnick asked Council if they wished to do Michigan Avenue or some other streets. Ms. Latusek favored Michigan Avenue. Mr. Sloan was in favor of doing those other streets which have never been paved. Mr. White felt that not enough time has been given Council to be able to make a decision.

Mr. Sloan and Mr. White expressed their dissatisfaction with the manner of presentation and the time allotted to make such a major decision.

Moved by Golnick, supported by Latusek that the City Manager be authorized to arrange for the engineering to be completed for the Michigan Ave. project of its present width and to proceed with advertisement and bidding of the job for early spring construction. Ayes: 4, Nays: 0, Absent: 1, motion carried.

Discussion took place on Section 8 Housing for the Grayling Housing Commission.

Moved by Golnick, supported by Latusek that the Housing Director be authorized to apply for an additional 25 Units of Section 8 Housing as requested. Ayes: 4, Nays: 0, Absent: 1, motion carried.

A letter from Mr. Robert Smock Jr. making an offer to purchase approximately 6 acres of city owned property was presented to Council. The property is located across the East Branch of the Ausable River from the point of City Water Well No. 1. Mr. Smock offered to purchase the property for $8,500.00 or a negotiated price on a land contract.

Mr. Morford recommended not selling this property at this time until we know the result of the DNR property split in the area. Mr. Golnick recommended that Mr. Smock be informed of Council's position on the property.

Reports of City Manager. Mr. Morford reported on the following:

Lagoon Project.

Ad for a new Chamber of Commerce Director.

1989-90 Budget Schedule.

News release from Police Department.

SDM-SDD Liquor License for Drake's Union 76.

Alley project, Block 17 of Original Plat.

Reports of Council Members.

Mr. White asked about getting the engineering finished on the rest of the unpaved streets. Other Council Members agreed that this should be done this summer if possible.

Adjournment.

Moved by Golnick, supported by White that the meeting be adjourned. Ayes: 4, Nays: 0, Absent: 1, motion carried. The meeting was adjourned at 9:48 p.m.

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

This is the time of year when we begin having a serious problem with dogs chasing and killing deer. Snow conditions are such that deer break through the surface crust that is able to support dogs which are allowed to run loose. A small pack of dogs can easily catch and kill or maim several deer in a single day.

It has been found that most of the dogs involved in this activity are house dogs and family pets which are allowed to run by their owners. Many times, the owner refuses to believe their dog was involved because it was sitting on the porch when they left for work and was still there when they returned.

A dog owner ("any person having a right of property to a dog, and every person who keeps or harbors a dog or has it in his care, and every person who permits a dog to remain on or about any premises occupied by him") is responsible for the activities of his dog and is required to keep the dog under control. An owner may also be liable to the state for restitution for any deer killed by their dog. This restitution is now set at $1,000.

Please accept your responsibility as a dog owner and keep your pet tied.

While we wait for the time we can toast garlic bread on the grill, we can brighten our meals with quick breads. Here are some suggestions.

Sour Cream Bread

- 2/3 c. sugar
- 1/2 c. margarine or butter
- 3 small eggs
- 2 c. flour sifted with 2 tsp. baking powder
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. baking soda
- 2/3 c. sour cream
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1/2 c. raisins

Topping

- 1 c. brown sugar
- 1/4 c. butter, softened
- 1 tbsp. flour
- 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
- Dash of nutmeg

Pour into greased 4 1/2 x 2 1/2 x 1 1/2 inch pan. Bake at 350° about one hour. Turn out on rack to cool. The nut topping browns quickly, so it may need to be covered with foil the last half hour.

Verse or Worse

By Joseph D. Murphy

Winter Blahs

The first snow of the season
Seems to bring beauty to the land
We all stand and admire
The first touch of winter's hand.

But that was back in November
What does February bring
A real bad case of winter blahs
When we hope and pray for spring.

We are sick and tired of cold and snow
And as the sun begins to warm
We start to dream of green grass and flowers
How we hate a spring time storm.

We hope and pray for an early spring
That the snow will soon be gone
We hope to soon see a robin
Hunting worms on a green lawn.

As the morning sun and longer days
Begin to bare the earth
With happy hearts and pure delight
We greet the season of rebirth.

The grass and flowers begin to grow
We greet those spring days with a smile
It's the time of year that makes
Living through the winter seem worthwhile.

Doodles from the Tall Timber

By Wendell L. Hoover
Hartwick Pines Interpreter

More went on within what is now the park than meets the casual eye. Much of what went on is probably lost now or hidden beneath the grass and second growth timber. Driving past the site of Kneeland it is not apparent that there was a water tower for the trains, a boarding house, a blacksmith shop and several houses and assorted out buildings. This town site located on the Michigan Central Railroad (what we call the Lewiston Grade) received mail from Fred-eric as late as 1910 and even as late as 1918 was still a station on the above railroad.

This town site was named after a Mr. Kneeland who was connected with the Salling-Hanson Co. in some capacity or another. Sometime later he was a partner in the Kneeland-Lunden and Bigelow Lumber Co. which operated primarily in the Johannesburg area.

We know even less about Foxestown located along the Mertz Grade to the Northeast from the picnic area. The Mertz Grade not only went through Foxestown, but served Robinson's Mill in the Northeast corner of the park and was the main link to civilization for the town of Hardgrove still further northeast.

At any rate, Foxestown got its name from a family of that name who settled there. Art Howse seemed to remember that Fox operated a small store and that there were squatter's shacks along either side of the grade. Most of those living in the vicinity of Foxestown were probably engaged in woods work.

As mentioned before, Robinson's Mill was associated with a logging camp in the northeast corner of the park. The late Arthur Howse recalled working in the mill in 1905 and that it was gone by 1914 along with the surrounding timber resource.

... about your Social Security

March 31 will be the last day this year eligible Social Security beneficiaries can sign up for Medicare medical insurance (Part B). This enrollment period is for people who could have taken Part B before, but declined to do so, or who previously terminated their Part B coverage.

The medical insurance part of Medicare helps pay the costs of physicians' services, outpatient hospital services, some prescription drugs, and certain other medical items and services not covered by Medicare hospital insurance (Part A). Because of changes to the Medicare laws passed by Congress last summer, Medicare medical insurance coverage is more comprehensive than in the past.

For people who enroll now, during the general enrollment period, medical insurance protection starts July 1. The basic premium rate this year is $31.90 per month, and it increases by 10 percent for each year an eligible person is not enrolled.

Questions about Medicare can be answered by calling the Medicare toll free number 1-800-888-1988.

To sign up for medical insurance, or get other Social Security information, contact Social Security. The national toll-free number is 1-800-234-5544.

The Traverse City office is located at 1111 E. Front St., and is open 9:00-4:30, Monday through Friday, except national holidays. The telephone number is (616) 946-8360.

A representative is at the County Building in Grayling on the first and third Tuesday of each month, from 10:30 until 2:00. There is no phone service at this location. Callers should use the toll-free numbers.

Poet's Corner

To Each His Own

A perky little Chickadee
Sat on my windowsill.
He preened his ruffled feathers
Of bird seed ate his fill.

How lucky is he, thought I,
As I cleaned the kitchen stove.
Once he has eaten all he needs,
He has lots of time to rove.

He hustled to the feeder,
A dozen times that day
And gobbled up some seed,
Then quickly flew away.

Soon the sky grew cloudy,
Snow piled up in a heap
Where, I began to wonder,
Will he find a place to sleep?

It seems I was too hasty,
About the little Chickadee,
Since I cannot eat bird seed,
Or roost up in a tree.

Forensics Team Competes Against 27 High Schools

The Grayling High School Forensics Team opened its season at the Beaverton High School Invitational Tournament on February 18, against 27 Class A-D high schools from all over Michigan.

Senior James Montoya won 1st place in Dramatic Interpretation and fellow senior Lori Dean won 4th place in Storytelling. The Multiple Interpretation team, composed of freshmen Kris Albee, Kristie Lamie, Nikki Lester, Kamie Newhouse, Angie Thompson and Renee Wireman, also took 4th place.

Both the Duo Interpretation team of sophomores Candy Grigsby and Andrea McLaughlin and junior Nikki Burcham in Dramatic Interpretation qualified for Semi-finals.

Other GHS Forensics team members who competed in the Beaverton Invitational include: senior Chris Zell, Dramatic Interpretation; seniors

Amy Denton and Janet Petrosky, Duo Interpretation; junior Chris Bindchatel, Poetry Interpretation; freshman Kendra Wert, Prose Interpretation; and freshman Josh Lepsy. Extemporaneous Speaking 9-10.

Forensics is a public address/interpretative reading competition in which the participants chose one of 14 performance areas. They either write speeches or choose reading selections and master their deliveries through intensive rehearsal.

In Dramatic Interpretation, for example, the competitor selects a scene from a published play. He then edits it to fit within the 5-8 minute time limit and works to perfect his interpretation of the dialogue between the characters in the scene.

In Storytelling, the competitor chooses a selection from children's literature. This also must be edited to fit 5-8 minutes. The interpreter rehearses the narration and dialogue as if he were delivering his story to an audience of children.

In Multiple Interpretation, three to eight participants perform one work or a collection of works in a time frame of 10-15 minutes. Dialogue, individual and choral reading, limited singing and choreography are components.
